Strategic Course on Negotiation and Mediation (Chartered)

Introduction

This course is strategically designed for professionals and other prospective candidates, seeking for means to reaching peaceful and agreed resolution to conflict or dispute. It is observed that the involved parties in disagreement often lack experience in strategic negotiation and, for some groups, even recognising the opposing side as a legitimate negotiating party or to identify strategic mediation techniques can be too much to ask. To complicate matters even further, the task of both skills is not always delegated to a trained mediator or negotiator, but may instead fall on the shoulders of individuals unfamiliar with the unique demands and skills required to mediate and negotiate successfully.

This invaluable interactive course offers the knowledge and skills to prepare beneficiaries to close deals that might otherwise be deadlocked, maximize value creation in agreements they reach, and resolve differences before they escalate into costly conflicts, time delay or waste of resources. This course emphasizes an understanding of both analytical tools and interpersonal techniques for dealing effectively with different mediating and bargaining styles and tactics.

With state-of-the-art facilities, the Institute for Peace and Conflict Resolution (IPCR), the government agency tasked with the responsibility for strengthening Nigeria and Africa's capacity for the promotion of peace, conflict prevention, management and resolution, will take participants through two-week training on strategic mediation and negotiation skills. Through the Institute's training arm, the National Peace Academy (NPA) will deliver the mediation and negotiation course that will lead towards high impact and sustainable skills at all levels, whether finding solutions to people management issues, sealing a deal on a sales packages, or entering into high-level strategic mediation or negotiation involving multi-party stakeholders.
